MY STORY

From designer to musician to photographer, I have been a creative for almost my entire life. My peers would consider me to be detail oriented, an excellent team player, quick learner and problem solver. I constantly seek to grow and sharpen my skills as a graphic designer so that I may not only more effectively express my talents, but the offerings of those around me as well. With my creative abilities, real world experience, and extensive knowledge of design, I would make a valuable asset to any design or marketing agency.
